DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Sinofsky et al. (US 5,100,429 A).

Regarding claim 1, Sinofsky et al. teach a pad for insertion into a wound bed, said pad comprising a highly reticulated open-cell collagen foam (46)(col. 7, lines 12-25); and a means (34) for providing phototherapy.

Further regarding claim 1, The term "highly" is a relative term which renders the scope claim uncertain. The term "highly" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. Giving the claim its broadest reasonable interpretation, this limitation reads upon the perforated collagen material (col. 7, lines 12-25).

Regarding claim 2, Sinofsky et al. teach transmitting of electromagnetic radiation in the spectrum between 300nm and 1500nm (col. 7, lines 43-50).

Regarding claim 5, Sinofsky et al. teach phototherapy means comprising an optical fiber (col. 6, line 20).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sinofsky et al.

Sinofsky et al. expressly teach the claimed invention except for a plurality of optical transmitting fibers.

Mere duplication of parts is not sufficient to patentably distinguish a device from what is known in the art. In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960).

At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to add multiple optical fibers to the device as taught by Sinofsky et al. all to provide redundant fibers which could transmit more light and back up means if one of the delicate fibers were to be damaged in use.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-13 are allowed.

Claims 3, 4 and 7-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 16 June 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the claimed pad is intended to be used "for insertion in a wound bed", a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
